

The marching band of Baille Tourible

Founded in 2014 at the request of the youth of Baille Tourible, the marching band became a way for them to regain confidence, develop their leadership skills, and get involved in their community. Moreover, the marching band is helping to slow the rural exodus of these adolescents who have become role models for the youngest in their community and the pride of all.

The band is now composed of 72* young students from Baille Tourible. And every year they have the opportunity to perform during Haitian national holidays (flag festival and patron saint festival) and at several local events.
